

Sacred Grounds™

WORKSHOP

Why Green Your Faith Community's Landscape?

*Beautifying our neighborhoods with flowers that heal
Answering the call to care for creation*

Join us to learn how diverse faiths share the call to creation care and how you can beautify your faith community's grounds with native plants while improving your environmental stewardship.

Reduce the size of your lawn (and mowing time) by building a natural community that:

- creates habitat for birds and butterflies and welcomes pollinators
- reduces water pollution from runoff and lessens impacts from climate change
- provides opportunities for youth and adults to spend time outside and offers health and wellness benefits

Learn about National Wildlife Federation's innovative Sacred Grounds™ program that recognizes and certifies faith communities that have made their grounds friendly to wildlife and welcoming to the human community

Meet a local green team of organizations and agencies who can provide advice and resources to start building your Sacred Grounds community!
